

APSE: THE NETWORK ON EMPLOYMENT EMPLOYER FORUM

July 10 8:00—9:30 a.m.
Louisville Marriott Downtown

Mark Your Calendars! Individuals with disabilities have become a natural resource of solid employees for businesses across the country. The Employer Forum features nationally recognized leaders in disability employment practices who will address issues such as:

- The latest in diversity research as well as national and local cutting edge trends in workplace diversity;
- Strategies for successful recruitment and retention;
- Hints for where to find support for you and your employees;
- Information to help you ensure the Americans with Disabilities Act works for you and More.

This event is part of the 19th Annual National APSE Conference, held July 9-11th. The conference will bring 500+ professionals, educators, employers, family members and individuals with disabilities together to share knowledge and expertise on the latest developments and innovations regarding meaningful employment for people with disabilities.

FEATURING:

Dr. Shirley Davis, Director of Diversity Initiatives, SHRM
Kay Mathis, Vice President ADA Technology, Citigroup

Dr. Shirley Davis

As Director of Diversity Initiatives for the Society for Human Resources Management (SHRM), Shirley Davis acts as the “thought leader” for her organization on global diversity issues. With more than 15 years of experience in Human Resources, Organizational & Leadership Development and Diversity Management, she has provided leadership in Training & Education, Leadership Development, Performance Management, Recruiting, Change Management, Strategic Planning and Global Diversity. Prior to her position at SHRM, she was Director of Diversity at Constellation Energy; held several leadership positions at Capital One, including Senior Manager of HR & Diversity; Training Director, Sr. Change Consultant, and Sr. HR Consultant; Sr. HR Analyst and Management Development Consultant at Circuit City Headquarters.

Kay Mathis

Kay Mathis, Vice President ADA Technology, Citigroup, Inc., is based here in Louisville. Mathis travels across the U.S., within and outside Citi, as an advocate for employing people with disabilities and an educator on how to accomplish this. “I am responsible for providing accommodations for Citi employees who have disabilities to insure they can perform their job responsibilities,” said Mathis who is a 22-year Citi veteran. Louisville Site President Greg Stevens said, “Having Kay in the position of National ADA Technology Manager for Citi allows further developments in technology to create an innovative, diversity-focused work environment. We are proud of Kay and the commitment of our employees to diversity efforts.”

James Emmett

James Emmett is a national leader in development of employment services for persons with disabilities as well as in assisting corporations in creation of outreach efforts to the disability and autism communities. James serves as the Chief Operating Officer of Integrated Behavioral Systems and is the current Disability Consultant for Midway Moving & Storage and Jitterbug. He recently completed 1.5 years working as the Disability Program Manager for Walgreens helping set up the company's national disability initiative.
